ABOUT US

The Aspinall Foundation is run in conjunction with Howletts and Port Lympne Wild Animal Parks. We are devoted to the protection and breeding of rare and endangered species with the ultimate aim of returning them back to the wild wherever possible.

The Aspinall Foundation was established as a registered charity in 1984. John Aspinall, the founder, dreamt of returning rare and endangered animals back to their natural habitats. The Foundation now successfully runs its own conservation projects overseas and supports reintroduction programmes across Asia and Africa.

There are now over 16,000 endangered species struggling to survive mainly due to habitat loss, hunting, pollution and conflict with humans worldwide. By conserving and protecting natural habitats and endangered species we can help to halt the next global mass extinction.

Over the past few years we have sent a range of animals back to the wild including 8 black rhino, 49 Javan langurs, 9 Javan gibbon, 11 European bison and over 60 Western lowland gorillas.

A big part of conservation is education. Increasing public awareness of the importance of animal welfare and how we can all act to protect animals and their natural environments can really make a difference.

WHY WE NEED YOU

Looking after animals in captivity and getting them ready for a life in the wild is no easy task. We have the experience and skills to run successful reintroduction projects proven for over 30 years. However, we can only do this with your help.

SUPPORT US BY:

- Fundraising
- Setting up a Monthly Donation
- Adopting an animal

£10 will pay for food supplies for one gorilla during their transport back to the wild.

£100 will pay the fuel for 3 days of boat patrols to monitor and protect our gorilla groups in Gabon.

£250 will cover the cost of one camera trap to monitor and protect our animals after they have been released back to the wild.

“I decided to fundraise for The Aspinall Foundation in order to raise money for a new fishing cat enclosure at Port Lympne as well as raising awareness for the lesser known cat species. I undertook a skydive which was not an easy feat as I don't like flying in planes let alone the idea of jumping out of one. It was a huge challenge for me but I did it and actually loved the experience and would recommend it to anyone!”

“The Aspinall Foundation is a wonderful charity which is very close to my heart. I never believed that I would actually be able to run a half marathon. This was quite a challenge for me after having broken my ankle and ACL a year ago. It was a great achievement to run over the finish line. With my sponsorship, I have adopted a baby Gorilla called Sébé in Gabon. I admire the work of The Aspinall Foundation and encourage others to challenge themselves to raise money for such a worthy cause”

“This year I'm running the Brighton Marathon to raise funds for The Aspinall Foundation. I greatly admire their work and have visited and loved the wild animal parks for as long as I can remember. It's my first marathon but training is going well and made all the easier when remembering the animals for which I am doing it, those who don't have a voice of their own to ask for help.”

“Having visited Port Lympne, I became more aware of the great conservation work that the Aspinall Foundation do all around the world. I've always enjoyed swimming and recently started taking part in more open water swimming and thought a great way to combine these two interests was to take part in the Great Scottish Swim and raise money for the Aspinall Foundation”.

HELP US HALT MASS EXTINCTION

The Megafauna project was set up restore the environment in the Batéké Plateau National Park in Gabon.

The Aspinall Foundation has been protecting one million acres of wildlife habitat in Congo and Gabon for 30 years. It is the home of our Gorilla project and through our work in this area we have helped other species. Including the first sighting of a lion in 20 years! We are on the brink of mass extinction globally.

With your help we can ensure wild areas like these are protected for generations to come. Unless we all step up and take urgent action now, there will be no lions, elephants or gorillas left in our children's world.

THE MILE CHALLENGE

Help our animals get back to the wild!

Our Back to the Wild initiative has seen over 200 animals successfully reintroduced to the wild around the world. Many of these animals have travelled thousands of miles from our parks in Kent.

For example, when we send a critically endangered Western lowland gorilla back to the wild they travel approximately 3800 miles from Kent to their new home in Africa. This costs us approximately £1500 for the flight. By fundraising for us, you will be directly helping us to send more animals back to the wild.

The Mile Challenge is a fun way for anyone to get involved in fundraising for our back to the wild programmes. Ask a friend or family member to challenge you to complete 1, 5, 10 or even 100 miles, however many you like! You can complete your challenge by walking, running, skating, swimming, space hopping or any fun way you can think of that doesn't use an electric motor!

See how much sponsorship you can get for completing your miles, create a JustGiving account or Virgin Money Giving page to help you raise funds or use our paper sponsor forms.

Challenge your challenger! If they gave you 5 miles challenge them 10 back!
